

An Evening with James Carroll: Author, Historian, Journalist

Save the date: Saturday, February 16, 2019 7:00PM

Jewish Learning for Jewish Living

Spend a provocative evening with best-selling novelist and author of Constantine's Sword:

James Carroll. James Carroll is the author of twelve novels, most recently The Cloister, which The New York Times called "incandescent.". He also authored eight works of non-fiction, most recently Christ Actually: The Son of God for the Secular Age, which The Boston Globe called, "At once stunningly, original and strangely familiar, a testament to the power of a critical, creative faith." A chronicler of the history of the church and antisemitism, James Carroll will be joining members of TBI for a question and answer session following a brief lecture.

Delicious desserts and coffee will be served.

"In a bold and moving book...James Carroll maps the profoundly troubling two-thousand-year course of the Church's battle against Judaism and faces the crisis of faith it has provoked in his own life..."
