

Israel Book Club: Part 1 (of 3) - Lunch n' Learn

Can We Talk About Israel: A Guide for the Curious, Confused, and Conflicted*, by Daniel Sokatch

Wednesday, December 21, 2022 | 12:00 - 1:30 pm

For this discussion, led by Rabbi Marks, attendees will benefit from having read this book. Will be in both Register on ShulCloud.

Can We Talk About Israel is the story of the Israeli-Palestinian conflict, and of why so many people feel so strongly about it without actually understanding it very well at all. It is an attempt to grapple with a century long struggle between two peoples that both perceive themselves as (and indeed are) victims. And it's an attempt to explain why this subject inspires such extreme feelings-why it seems like Israel is the answer to "what is wrong with the world" for half the people in it, and "what is right with the world" for the other half. As Sokatch asks, is there any other topic about which so many intelligent, educated and sophisticated people express such strongly and passionately held convictions, and about which they actually know so little?

We Shall Build Anew tells the little-known story of how Rabbi Stephen S. Wise changed the trajectory of American Judaism for the next century. Through the Jewish Institute of Religion, JIR, he trained a new cadre of young rabbis who shared his outlook, charged them with invigorating and reshaping Jewish life, and launched them into positions of leadership across the country. While Wise earned the ire of many mainstream Jewish leaders through his disregard for denominational distinctions, JIR became home to faculty and students of widely divergent religious and political viewpoints.
